Contents Volume 80, 1992

Topographic inversion of early interdune deposits, Navajo Sandstone (Lower Jurassic), Colorado Plateau, USA
M. Bromley (Toronto, Ont., Canada) 1

Clay sedimentation in the Japan Sea since the Early Miocene: influence of source-rock and hydrothermal activity
N. Fagel (Villeneuve d'Ascq, France), L. André (Tervuren, Belgium), H. Chamley, P. Debrabant (Villeneuve d'Ascq, France) and L. Jolivet (Paris, France) 27

Dolomitization of Permian reef carbonates in a Jurassic subduction complex, central Japan
K. Minoura (Miyagi, Japan) 41

The role of mixing-zone dolomitization in sandstone cementation: evidence from the Triassic Buntsandstein, the Iberian Range, Spain
S. Morad (Uppsala, Sweden), R. Marfil (Madrid, Spain), I.S. Al-Aasm (Windsor, Ont., Canada) and D. Gomez-Gras (Barcelona, Spain) 53

Inferred glacio-eustatic control for high-frequency depositional sequences of the Plio–Pleistocene Kazusa Group, a forearc basin fill in Boso Peninsula, Japan
M. Ito (Chiba, Japan) and Y. Katsura (Tokyo, Japan) 67

Primary bedded phosphorites in the Campanian Mishash Formation, Negev, southern Israel
D. Soudry (Jerusalem, Israel) 77

Intra-arc sedimentation in a low-lying marginal arc, Eocene Clarno Formation, central Oregon
J.D.L. White and P.T. Robinson (Halifax, N.S., Canada) 89

Sequence-stratigraphic framework of the German Triassic
T. Aigner (Tübingen, FRG) and G.H. Bachmann (Hannover, FRG) 115

Preface 137

Classification of clastic coastal depositional environments
R. Boyd (Halifax, N.S., Canada), R. Dalrymple (Kingston, Ont., Canada) and B.A. Zaitlin (Calgary, Alta., Canada) 139

Holocene evolution of an estuary on a tectonically rising coast: the Pakarae River locality, eastern North Island, New Zealand
K.R. Berryman (Lower Hutt, New Zealand), Y. Ota (Yokohama, Japan) and A.G. Hull (Lower Hutt, New Zealand) 151

Estuarine, barrier-island to strand-plain sequence and related ravinement surface developed during the last interglacial in the Paleo-Tokyo Bay, Japan
N. Murakoshi (Ibaraki, Japan) and F. Masuda (Toyonaka Osaka, Japan) 167

Mid-Holocene evolution of a tidal basin in the western Netherlands: a model for future changes in the northern Netherlands under conditions of accelerated sea-level rise?
A.J.F. van der Spek and D.J. Beets (Haarlem, The Netherlands) 185

Late Quaternary stratigraphic signature, offshore from the Dutch barrier shoreline
E.C. Kosters, B.E.J.M. Van Mierlo, N.H. Verbeek, B.J. Posthumus, T.M. McGee and J. Brouwer (Utrecht, The Netherlands) 199

Controls on Quaternary coastal evolution of the east-northeastern coast of Brazil: roles of sea-level history, trade winds and climate
J.M.L. Dominguez, A.C.S.P. Bittencourt (Salvador, Brazil) and L. Martin (Bondy, France) 213

Geologic and human factors in the decline of the tidal shelf marsh lithosome: the Delaware estuary and Atlantic coastal zone
J.C. Kraft, H.-I. Yi and Md. Khalequzzaman (Newark, Del., USA) 233

Water-level changes in the Hammock River marsh palaeovalley, Connecticut between 13,000 and 6000 (^{14}C) yrs B.P.
O. van de Plassche, S. van Heteren, W.R. Gehrels (Amsterdam, The Netherlands) and W.G. Mook (Groningen, The Netherlands) 247

Seismic stratigraphy and coastal drainage patterns in the Quaternary section of the southern Delmarva Peninsula, Virginia, USA
A.M. Foyle and G.F. Oertel (Norfolk, Va., USA) 261
Aminostratigraphic results from Cape Lookout, N.C., and their relation to the preserved Quaternary marine record of SE North Carolina
L.L. York and J.F. Wehmiller (Newark, Del., USA) 279
Late Quaternary coastal and inner shelf stratigraphy, Apalachicola Delta region, Florida
J.F. Donoghue (Tallahassee, Fla., USA) 293
Beach-ridge development and lake-level variation in southern Lake Michigan
T.A. Thompson (Bloomington, Ind., USA) 305
Coastal response to the Holocene transgression in the Bahamas: episodic sedimentation versus continuous sea-level rise
P. Kindler (Miami, Fla., USA) 319
